

Withey Morris Selected Among 2022 Best Law Firms

PHOENIX, AZ – U.S. News & World Report and Best Lawyers recognized Withey Morris PLC, a prominent Arizona land use and real estate law firm, in its 2022 edition of Best Law Firms. Firms receive recognition for “professional excellence with consistently impressive ratings from clients and peers,” according to U.S. News-Best Lawyers.

“This high caliber of recognition is significant to our firm,” said Jason Morris, partner. “A key differentiator for us is our deeply-rooted relationships – those we have with our clients – and the political and business communities throughout Arizona. We also have a tremendously talented team and the great work they do plays a significant role in this distinguished honor.”

For 11 years, Withey Morris has earned top tier recognition in the following practice areas:

- National – Land Use & Zoning Law
- Metropolitan Phoenix – Land Use & Zoning Law, Government Relations and Real Estate Law

According to U.S. News-Best Lawyers, firms that received a tier designation “reflect the high level of respect a firm can earn among other leading lawyers and clients in the same communities and practice areas. Achieving a tiered ranking signals a unique combination of quality law practice and breadth of legal expertise.” Best Lawyers in America® 2022 also recently recognized five land use and zoning attorneys from Withey Morris.
